A WORD FROM OUR PASTOR

We welcome the first Rise and Shine Mass for the new school year, and I welcome all the young among us who lector, cantor, usher, take up the collection, greet, and participate in today's Mass. You are not the future of the Church; you are the Church today! Thank you for sharing and participating today.

At the Baptism ceremony, the minister reminds the parents of their obligation to be the first teachers of their children in the ways of the faith. The blessing at the end of the ceremony again makes note of this and asks God to bless the parents and help them to be the best of teachers in sharing the faith.

Parents do not have to do this alone. Catechetical Sunday celebrates and blesses all who teach in our parochial school and our faith formation programs. These catechists help parents and guardians in the task mentioned above at the time of a child's Baptism.

We are very fortunate to have many wonderful women and men and even some younger persons who have just celebrated the Sacrament of Baptism who give many hours in preparing and presenting lessons of our faith. May God bless each one of them abundantly. May their words touch the hearts of their students and help them and all of us along the path of discipleship that the Lord calls each of us to answer.

In celebrating Catechetical Sunday, the USCCB has labeled this year with the theme of "This is my body, given for you." In the celebration of the Eucharist, we experience all of the central mysteries of our faith: the Incarnation, the action of the Holy Trinity, our redemption and salvation through the paschal sacrifice of Christ, our life as the mystical Body of Christ, the People of God... and so much more!

Without a doubt, we are given in this Blessed Sacrament the literal food for a lifetime of catechetical instruction, and we are invited to grow in our understanding and appreciation of this mystery throughout our lives!

The Lord lifts up the poor and needy. At first glance, today's first reading may seem disconnected from this theme.

The prophet Amos denounced those who trample on the needy and destroy the poor, while the Psalm sings praise to the Lord for lifting up the poor. Pope Benedict XVI spelled out the prophetic connection between these Scripture readings and our celebration of the Eucharist, telling us that "Precisely because of the mystery we celebrate, we must denounce situations contrary to human dignity, since Christ shed his blood for all, and at the same time [we must] affirm the inestimable value of each individual person" (SC, 89).

The Eucharist is given for the life of the world—through us, the Body of Christ on Earth! The sublime gift of the Eucharist builds on the grace of our rebirth in Baptism to strengthen and form us as the Body of Christ, given for the life of the world (Jn 6:51). In other words, it is precisely because of this gift we have received that we are called to prophetically defend the weak, the vulnerable, and those who cannot speak on their own behalf. The world around us does not always see things in this light, so we have a social and political responsibility to participate in the perfection of charity in our midst, working tirelessly for justice and the common good.

This is the goal of all catechetical formation. This is what guides us in society that doesn't always welcome the poor, the homeless, the sick and the elderly, immigrants fleeing for their lives and those yet to be born.

My prayer for our parish is that we will preach this firm social justice in our daily lives and then also practice what we preach.
