Jesus said to them,
"I tell you, the tax collector went home justified,
not the Pharisee; for whoever exalt themselves
will be humbled, and those who humble themselves will be exalted."

A WORD FROM THE PASTOR:

As you heard last weekend, on Wednesday November 6 at 7pm in the church, I am welcoming anyone who would like to talk about Bishop Barron's book that we gave out a few weeks ago or about anything else on your mind regarding these matters.

I don't claim to be an expert in everything, but I am sure from past experiences that good insights will be given by those who participate. There is no script or complete plan for the evening, but it will go the way people who are present want it to proceed. So why not join them? I know we will all benefit from the forum.

The Saturday before that is the night of the annual 'school auction'. The Parents Club has been amazing throughout the eight years I have served at St. Theresa's in raising funds that keep down tuition costs that are ever rising. Recently they have raised and contributed toward the operating budget of the school 140K each year which really makes a difference when the financial committee of the School Board is trying to figure out the tuition schedule.

I invite you to do more this year than just purchase raffle tickets that help the parents' club reach their goal. I invite you to an exciting evening where you will meet familiar friends and meet new ones, have a great dinner care of the Greek Orthodox facility, maybe win some great deals and good wine and help continue one of the ministries of the parish that has gone on for more than 60 years, the parochial school. Maybe you helped when the first auction happened in the church hall, maybe you contributed to building the school and your children all graduated from it. Come celebrate and help this legacy of several generations continue with the best we can give for the current boys and girls who attend our school!

We did not plan it this way, but Saturday November 2 is also the Feast of All Souls. This is the day throughout the Church when we pray for all our relatives, friends, people we admire and people who have no one else that they may be with God now that they have passed away. Our parish custom has been to send a special invitation to every family that had some form of a funeral through our parish. With this emphasis this night, we welcome all of you who may have had participated in a family or friend's funeral in another place.

Please come to the 5pm Mass on November 2. Bring a picture of someone you are praying for to adorn our table of remembrance for the month of November. Join us as a community we pray that these good people are at peace and praying for us.

On that note, are you prepared? Does someone know and understand you own wishes?

Funeral planning is an emotional and often costly process that is surrounded by a great deal of uncertainty. While it is best to discuss end-of-life wishes with loved ones ahead of time, many people shy away from this difficult conversation or never get the chance to have what they want and what will bring hope and comfort to our families and friends. Without some guidance, the options and information surrounding funerals and interment can quickly become overwhelming at an already trying time.

The Diocese of Oakland has lost several priests within the last year. Fr. Patrick Goodwin and Fr. Dan Danielson both served here. It is hard to believe that Fr. Tony Herrera is gone over two years. One of the first things we are asked to do when we are ordained is to file our funeral plans with the diocese. Many put it off, but what a blessing when you have to take care of the details.

I have heard many times, that a person does not want to burden their family with their funeral. I assure you having worked with many, many families over the years, a funeral brings closure, peace and hope to a family and directions from you make the burden compacted with grief a lot easier. Cathy Brady, myself and any staff member is happy to help guide you if you would like to do this act of charity on behalf of your family and friends. We have a 'Catholic funeral planning book' that contains readings, prayers and music that will help you do this. Just give a call or ask one of us and we will be happy to assist you.

You have witnessed in recent weeks the installation of solar panels on the event center. I will give a full report when the job has been completed and we are generating power and lowering our utility costs.

Remember All Souls throughout November

The month of November is traditionally reserved in the Church for remembering loved ones who have died. Throughout the month there will be a book in the sanctuary which will include any name you submit or that you write in yourself. Please feel welcome to write the names of your beloved in this book at any time during the month. You may also use one of the envelopes available at the information desk.

There will also be a table in the sanctuary where you may place framed pictures of your beloved dead. The table will be up for the month of November. Please make sure your name and phone number are on the back of the picture.
